This Model Aviation Club has been formed to peak the interest of today's youth! The training program involves teaching youth how to build and fly control line model airplanes. Each licensed instructor will teach using available trainer planes until the student is able to build and fly his/her own plane. The student will learn why planes fly, how engines operate and how construction affects the flight. Control line flying makes for a real experience of watching a plane soar through the air at the end of one's arm..!

Years ago Model Aviation was a very important aspect of growing up! Neil Armstrong flew model aircraft in competitions and claims that his model building and flying activities significantly contributed to his interest in aeronautics and was a primary force in directing his education toward aeronautical engineering. Burt Rutan, the designer of the Voyager and SpaceShipOne, started his career in aviation due to early exposure to model aviation and that spark that it ignites! This is an exciting sport, an educational and inspirational experience. It promotes teamwork and creativity.

We have recently obtained an area at the Akron Fulton Airport dedicated to this program. This area must be fenced, graded and paved. This is a huge expense for our club. Please help us provide this activity for these young people by becoming a sponsor.

To remain at the forefront of the free world, we need to have air-minded people!

Make a difference in some child's future! That child may change our lives for the better some day.

Please help us by selecting a level of sponsorship.

For each level of sponsorship you(or your company) will be acknowledged by a beautiful digitally printed sign on white aluminum attached to the new chain link fence surrounding the flying area.
